

WESTMINSTER

The City of Westminster’s Historic Landmark Board has the principle responsibility for designating historic landmarks, developing and assisting with public education programs related to the value of historic properties, and conducting surveys of historic properties. This document provides a summary of the City of Westminster’s identified Historic Landmark properties. It provides information related to the criteria for selection and the aspects of the properties which are to be preserved and protected. The Historic Landmark Board meets regularly throughout the year. All meetings are open to the public and the Board encourages residents to attend the meetings and learn more about historic preservation in the City of Westminster.

Historic Landmark #11
Dudley C. Shoenberg Memorial Farm
5202 West 72nd Avenue
City Council Approval Date: 3/31/2008

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- The resources are 60 to 97 years old.
- Historically significant for its association to the National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives (NJH) and its role in the treatment of tubercular patients in the twentieth century. It is believed to be the last, intact farm in the Denver area associated with the twentieth-century sanatorium movement.
- Due to its association with early Colorado settlers and 20th Century dairy and egg production in the Denver metropolitan area, Shoenberg Farm exemplifies the cultural, political, economic and social heritage of the local and regional community.
- Represents an association with the work of a notable person, Louis D. Shoenberg Beaumont, a founder of the May Department Store chain and international philanthropist. Shoenberg Farm may be the earliest extant example of Mr. Shoenberg's philanthropy.
- Represents an association with the work of a notable dairy and egg fanner, Jacob J. Tepper, who was responsible for innovation and regional growth of these industries.
- Represents an association with the contributions of early Jewish settlers to the development of health care and the dairy and egg industries in Colorado, including the founding of National Jewish Hospital, the entrepreneurial efforts of Louis Shoenberg, and the farming and production innovations of the Tepper operation.

WESTMINSTER

- Standing at a prominent location at the southwest corner of West 73rd Avenue and Sheridan Boulevard, Shoenberg Farm is an established and familiar visual feature of the community.
- Each building exemplifies specific elements of an architectural style of the period in which it was built.
- The Dairy Barn suffered extensive damage early in the 20th Century and underwent significant historic remodel prior to 1947.
- The Milk & Ice House was expanded in the 1940s, roughly doubling its size, resulting in an addition that has historic significance.

Description of features that should be preserved (see City Council Resolution for full descriptions):

- 1911 Brick Superintendent's Residence. One-and-a-half story, red-brick dwelling. Bungalow-style which was popular in Colorado between 1900 and 1930.
- 1911 Brick Garage. The one-and-a-half story garage also built in a Bungalow style and is similar to the Superintendent's Residence in materials and construction.
- 1911 Brick Milk & Ice House. One-story, rectangular plan built in the style of the late 19th and early 20th Century American Movements.
- 1911 Brick Pump House. One-story, subterranean building with a rectangular plan, front-gable, composition roof, and concrete foundation.
- 1911 Brick Dairy Barn (modified before 1947). One-and-a-half story, red brick barn with a concrete foundation and metal, gambrel roof with two pairs of gabled dormers on the east and west elevations.
- 1911 Wooden Stave Silo. Tongue-in-groove, vertical wooden staves of the silo are held in place by iron bands and turnbuckles. It has a wood-shingle, conical roof with round ventilator on the peak.

WESTMINSTER

- 1950s Poured Concrete Silo. The poured concrete silo was formed of separately poured, stacked, concrete blocks. A ladder of metal rings is enclosed by a metal projection on the outside of the silo. Unloading is from the top. The silo has a concrete foundation and rounded metal ribbed roof.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #12
Westminster's First Town Hall
3924 West 72nd Avenue
City Council Approval Date: 4/28/2008

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- Contributes to the educational programming of the Westminster Historical Society.
- Exemplifies the political heritage of the community, as it was used as the City of Westminster Town Hall from 1911 to 1913.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- A one-story wood frame structure with a single room measuring 10'4" by 14'4" elevated approximately one foot above the existing grade.
- The roof has a 6:12 roof pitch and a gable (ridge running north-south) constructed of wood shingles. There is a 6-inch eave and rake overhang. The entire exterior of the structure is clad with horizontal simple drop siding.
- The front (north) elevation includes a four-panel door with four panels of glazing in upper panels (a 4-pane cruciform window pattern) with horizontal muntins and recessed wood panels.
- The siding is painted with sign lettering, "REAL ESTATE INSURANCE".
- The east elevation has a double-hung window with 4:4 window muntin pattern with a simple wood trim and protruding wood sill. To the right of the window the siding is painted with sign lettering, "REAL ESTATE".
- The south elevation has a horizontal window with a simple wood trim. This window does not appear to be part of the original structure.
- The west elevation siding is painted with sign lettering, "REAL ESTATE".

WESTMINSTER

7265-7269 Lowell Boulevard
City Council Approval Date: 8/25/2008

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- Represents a style associated with the Westminster area and is at least 50 years old.
- Exemplifies the economic and social heritage of the City, since it was an anchor building in the mid-20th century commercial district of Westminster.
- Represents an association with notable persons in the history of Westminster, Raymond and Mary Lou Nielsen, who established the first pharmacy in Westminster and were closely involved in establishing the first ambulance service and bringing physicians to the community to improve health care for its residents.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- Two-story concrete block structure with blond brick front veneer.
- 60-foot-wide façade with a stepped parapet and contrasting colored brick decorative features on the parapet.
- Roof behind the façade slopes to the back of the building and is not visible from the public street.
- Façade includes five casement windows on the second-floor elevation, with two windows narrower in width than the other three.
- The ground floor elevation includes three doors with transom lights above each and four large windows.
- All windows have sloped brick sills.
- The sides of the building are not visible from the public street except for some of the windows into the second-floor residential areas.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #14
Red and White Grocery Store
3947 – 3949 West 73rd Avenue
City Council Approval Date: 11/24/2008

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- Represents a style associated with the Westminster area and is at least 50 years old.
- Exemplifies the economic and social heritage of the City.
- Built in 1908 and was an anchor commercial building throughout the 20th century on Westminster's historic "Main Street," which is now known as West 73rd Avenue.
- Represents an association with notable persons in the history of Westminster, including Marguerite and Carl Hawkinson and Francis Day.
- The period of significance of this building is 1908 to 1954.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- False front commercial building with a store-front facade that rises to form a parapet that hides the gable-front roof. The parapet is asymmetrical, with the higher end on the west, and the lower portion stepping down on the east where the gable roof extends.
- An entry door is centered beneath the higher parapet, and is flanked by two plate glass storefront windows.
- A shed roof awning hung by metal chains over the storefront.
- A pair of 1/1 double-hung windows beneath the shorter parapet, and another 1/1 window is on the east elevation.
- An addition on the east, serving as residential quarters, also has a gable front roof. Evidence of a former parapet for a smaller false-front is behind a gable-front entry vestibule of this addition.
- The vestibule has a centered wood entry door with multiple lights and a storm door. It is flanked by a pair of sliding sash windows. An identical window is on the east elevation of the vestibule, while the remainder of this addition has two smaller sliding sash windows and a tripartite window. These remnants of the two parapets in the eastern portions of the building should be preserved.

- This main section of the commercial building is covered with stucco.
- At the rear is a smaller gable roof addition with horizontal lap siding, and a shed roof porch on the east with simple wood columns. There is another entry door on this elevation.
- Any proposed change to the stucco finish must be based on evidence of prior historic finishes within the period of significance.
- Any change to the existing "Red & White" sign is subject to Historic Landmark Board review and approval.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #15
Church's Stage Stop Well
10395 Wadsworth Boulevard
City Council Approval Date: 4/12/2010

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- Represents an important part of the Overland Stage Stop and provided a necessary support for agricultural and human sustenance associated with the Westminster area.
- Exemplifies the economic and social heritage of the City, since the well was used to support commerce, agricultural and residential uses from the 1860's through the present in Westminster.
- Represents an association with notable persons in the history of Westminster, George and Sarah Church, their son Frank Church and his wife Katherine Church, and one of their sons, Marcus Church. The Church's were pioneers in securing water rights, constructing irrigation ditches and reservoirs, and experimenting with dryland crops to promote agriculture and ranching in Colorado's dry climate.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- The Church's Stage Stop Well is marked with a brick wall approximately 3 ft. high. The top of the wall is rimmed with a pebbled concrete. The diameter of the well above ground is approximately 5 ft. A plywood covering is across the top of the well. The original hand dug well is rock lined. The interior of the well now contains an electric pump and the necessary supports and wiring to function effectively.
- The nomination for local landmark designation does not include the garage/storage building, added to the site in the 1980's, that is to the west of the well, or the log cabin structure north of the well that was constructed in 1980.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #16
The Edward and Mahalia Bowles House
3924 West 72nd Avenue
City Council Approval Date: 4/9/2012

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- The Edward and Mahalia Bowles House is at least 50 years old. It is one of the oldest remaining buildings in Westminster.
- Exemplifies specific elements of an Italianate architectural style popular in the 1870s when it was constructed.
- Exemplifies the cultural, political, economic and social heritage of the City. Served as the home of one of the first homesteaders in the area. The Bowles were instrumental in bringing the railroad to Westminster and donated land for the railroad depot.
- Represents an association with notable persons in the history of Westminster.
- Enhances the sense of identity of the community.
- It is an established and familiar natural setting or visual feature of the community.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- Two story Italianate-style residence.
- The main structure is entirely red brick with a reddish colored mortar. The brick is an unglazed soft sand brick common to the area in the 1870s.
- The main roof is a truncated hip style with a large front gable. A small arched window is centered in the gable wall. The flat top of the main roof is edged with a cast iron metal rail. Small decorative wooden brackets are mounted below the soffit of the roof.
- The house has a square plan.
- The front porch on the north elevation has turned columns that support a truncated hip roof with decorative scalloped shingles.

WESTMINSTER

- A door from the second story leads to the flat top of the front porch. An iron rail surrounds the edge of this roof.
- Most windows on the structure are a rectangular style set in an arched brick frame with a one-over-one sash.
- The two first floor windows on the north elevation are not squared at the top of the window. The glass and frame on the upper sash of these two windows are rounded to fit with the arched brick framing.
- Decorative brick work bands the house at several locations. The decorative belt courses of bricks at windowsill level and around the arched openings of the first-floor windows and the sawtooth coursing near the head of the windows on each level are distinctive features of the house.
- The foundation has a parged concrete stamp to emulate a cut stone appearance.
- A side porch on the east elevation has a shed style roof. The upper wall of the east porch has sliding wood windows with a stone sill. The lower part of the east porch is a brick wall. Three stone steps lead to a door centered on the east porch elevation.
- Two chimneys are prominent. These are centered on the east and west roof areas.
- The house does not have a basement.
- A very small cellar area houses the furnace.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #17
Marion-Wilkins-Ward Barn and Windmill
Southwest Corner of 120th Avenue and Pecos Street
City Council Approval Date: 1/14/2013

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- Exemplifies a barn style and farm accessory structure that was popular and functional at the time that the barn was originally constructed in 1910, and the windmill in the 1940s.
- Represents an association with notable persons in the history of Westminster, namely the Marion family, the Wilkins family, and the Ward family.
- Represent an established visual feature of the community and have not changed significantly since they were constructed.

Description of features that should be preserved:

- The Marion-Wilkins-Ward Barn is a gable roofed structure with flanking shed style roofs. The barn has a footprint of 50 ft. by 57 ft. with a concrete slab floor. The upper level under the main roof contains a hayloft reached by an interior ladder. The hayloft has deep set exterior doors as well as a small opening near the peak of the gable at each end of the gable.
- The exterior of the barn is painted white with red trim and a red asphalt shingle roof. Most of the exterior siding is a horizontal weatherboard style, the original siding style used on the barn.
- All four elevations have at least one large door for access, as well as at least one single light window.
- The windmill is a steel structure designed for pumping ground water. The windmill is supported by four angle-iron legs, and strengthened with horizontal angle-iron braces mounted at equal distances from bottom to top, along with a series of slender diagonal guy wires. A metal ladder runs up the western side of the structure. The tower is capped by a small wooden platform, above which is the mount for the wind turbine.

WESTMINSTER

Historic Landmark #18
Westminster Presbyterian Church Sanctuary
3990 West 74th Avenue
City Council Approval Date: 1/13/2020

Criteria for Designation

Westminster Municipal Code Section 11-13-5

- The building is at least 50 years old and represents a distinctive mid-century modern style particularly associated with the Westminster area.
- Exemplifies cultural, political, economic, or social heritage of the community by being the first church organized in Westminster in 1892, and the only church in Westminster until 1949, and its association with Westminster University.
- Represents an association with notable persons in Westminster history, including members of the congregation that include six former Westminster mayors (Bean, Hoch, King, Nelson, Wilson, and Day).

Description of features that should be preserved:

- The sanctuary, in its original condition.
- Window and entry way configurations.
- Steep, peaked roofline.
- Stained glass windows and exterior crosses.
- Raised brick planters.
- Red brick exterior.
- Brick pony walls.
- All other exterior original features when it was built in 1957.
