

CONVERSATIONS (PART 1)

The City held a series of community conversations to hear what works in the current regulations, what needs to be improved, and how the code could better meet the future vision of Westminster in 2018

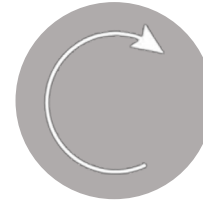

RESTRUCTURE

Based on public input, an analysis of the existing code, and best practices, the City will reorganize existing regulations to streamline and simplify it, as shown in the proposed code outline (2018)

CONVERSATIONS (PART 2)

Following the initial restructuring, the City continued community conversations to gather public input on key topic areas such as design standards, zoning and landscaping (2019 –2020)

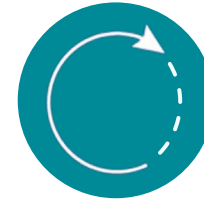

REWRITE (PART 1)

A consultant prepared a full draft the code, and a second draft to better align with the Westminster Forward Plans and address substantive issues raised by public input and technical analysis (2021)

CONVERSATIONS (PART 3)

Staff-led conversations resumed with review of the draft code and its application to actual sites in Westminster. Additional topic based discussions will facilitate focused discussion on common development types and application of appropriate standards to meet the City's Vision (2022)

REWRITE (PART 2)

A revised full draft will be prepared with a goal of being easier to use and recalibrated to better align with the City's Vision and support long-term resiliency. (2023)
